Summary

I'm Ali, currently diving deep into a Bachelor's in Artificial Intelligence while leveling up with a Cloud Computing certification. With hands-on experience as a freelancer on Upwork, I've worked with real-world data to extract insights, build visualizations, and solve problems that actually matter.

I'm passionate about blending AI and cloud technologies to create smarter, scalable solutions. Whether it's turning messy data into clean stories or collaborating on exciting projects, I bring curiosity, grit, and a growth mindset to everything I do.

Always learning. Always building.
